

Advanced At Home Lecture Capture

Universities and professors are rapidly inventing new methods of teaching from home. Certain subjects and teaching styles adapt more easily to remote teaching than others, such as a chemistry lab, medical training or an art project.

Complex instruction may involve demonstrations or whiteboards which are hard to capture through a webcam alone.

Panopto's integrated solutions bring together low-cost, space minimizing, and easy-to-use solutions to create a complete virtual lecture hall from anywhere.
